White family - July 14, 2022
:// www.markhamchesterfield.com

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Windy_White

https://vmi.contentdm.oclc.org/digital/collection/p15821coll7/id/397/

I plan to spend some time with this. I have Jimmy Moore's original Family Tree database from around 2006 when I was in Abingdon with him. I'm looking for it on my back up disks now. Even if I find it I don't know if it will work. I think most of the information in that chart came from Jimmy's system. When I got it I asked it to print out everything with any relation to me. I honestly had to go out and buy more paper for the printer. Hundreds of pages. My guess is that if and when I find that database it will have the same info as Bill sent us. Bill's has a lot of additions (it has me Harriet's year of death, 2021)

. I am still trying to figure out how our mother and Sydney's father were double first cousins. This chart seems to cover it.

Sydney's Father was Wyndham White (unfortunately he is not included in the data Bill sent us) and his father was Wyndham Robertson White (1869-1944), who was a brother of our grandfather, WYC White (1876-1950). The father of the two brothers was James L. White (1842-1914) .That made our mother and Sydney's father first cousins.

However, Sydney's father's mother was Mary Clifton white (1874-1944) White (Sydney's grandmother). Mary Clifton White was the daughter of John Greenway White (1845-1906). John Greenway White was a first cousin of both WYC White (1876-1950) and Wyndham White (1869-1944). John (1845-1906), WYC (1876-1950) and Wyndham (1869-1944) were all three grandsons of WYC White (1812-1862).

Pretty damn confusing. Sydney's grandfather White married his double second cousin. A double second cousin is the same blood relationship as a first cousin.

Bottom line: All of the my mother's siblings were double first cousins of Wyndham White (
i

Harry

On Thu, Jul 14, 2022 at 8:51 AM Madge Baya <madgebaya@gmail.com> wrote:

Good grief ,no wonder it is all so confusing…….the same names are used over and over

Sent from my iPad